Eight of those killed, according to the list, were boys under seventeen and five were men over fifty. Twentyeight cases are described as deliberate assassinations. Details are given to show that most of the men were shot for attempting to evade arrest or refusing to halt. With reference to two men who were killed on February 20, the paper says they were savagely beaten at Dublin Castle, taken to Clontarf Park, where tins were placed over their heads and shot at close range The Bulletin also gives signed statements of prisoners awaiting trial in the Wexford military barracks in American Committee for Relief in which they declare they have been freeland has been received at national tortured for refusing the work.
